Newport Man Visions Time When World's Commerce Passes Through Harbor

THE BEAUTIES of Orange county coast line were vividly pictured in an eloquent address delivered before the Lions club at St. Ann's Inn this noon by Joseph A. Beek, secretary of the state senate and harbormaster at Newport Beach.

Beek's address was the fourth on the series of "Know Orange County Week" programs sponsored by The Register.

"World commerce is at our door and it awaits only harbor development," declared Beek in the course of his remarks.

Dr. Wilson Fritch, nationally famous writer, also made a few remarks, commenting on the wonders of Orange county, and especially the coast line.

Governor Tomorrow's Speaker The "Know Orange County Week" programs will be concluded at a joint meeting of all service clubs at St. Ann's Inn tomorrow, when Gov. C. C. Young will be the principal speaker.

The musical feature of today's program before the Lions club was presented by Morgan Jones, of this city, accompanied by Alan Revill, club pianist. The soloist sang "Vision Fugitive", from "Herodiade Massenet", and "Prologue" from "Pagliacci" and "Soul of Mine."

Bert Sutton officiated as program chairman.

Dr. W. Maxwell Burke, introducing the speakers, said: "On behalf of the publisher of The Santa Ana Register, we wish to thank most heartily all those who have so splendidly co-operated to make "Know Orange County Week" a 100 per cent success. Particularly the officers and members of the Santa Ana luncheon clubs for the letters and telegrams they have sent, the personal invitations they have extended and the manifold acts of courtesy and assistance they have rendered.

The first speaker is a man who, perhaps, has served longer than any other in his labors for development of the picturesque and beautiful coast line of the county. Joseph A. Beek.

Has True Vision

If there is anyone who has the true vision of the possibilities of the harbor at Newport Beach, it is this man. He is at present secretary of the California senate; staff commodore, Newport Harbor Yacht club; rear commodore, Southland Sailing club; director of Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce and Bank of California, and captain of the star boat fleet.

"In addition to that he is an

Explorer Enroute Back to Kings Bay After Visit To World's Top

(By United Press)

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, May 24.—An aircraft again has sailed over the summit of the world and Gen. Umberto Nobile, who circled the north pole shortly after midnight last night, is enroute back to his base here.

The "Italia" reached the north pole at 12:25 a. m.

For a few minutes it circled, as the definite location of the pole has not been determined and Nobile wanted to make sure his dirigible passed over the exact spot.

Then an Italian flag, a cross, blessed by the pope, and guide ropes were dropped.

None of Crew Lands

The "Italia" did not land any of her crew at the pole.

After circling for a few minutes at the spot believed to be the exact top of the world, Nobile turned his trim dirigible—its sides coated with ice—back toward civilization.

He had visited the spot that only a few men before him had visited. He was on one of the former expeditions with Roald Amundsen, and, like Amundsen, circled the area just to be sure the exact spot had been reached.

This flight to the north pole completed Nobile's series of maneuvers through the northern skies.

He flew to the north from Italy a few weeks ago, announcing three tours. The first was unsuccessful; the second was a 68-hour cruise over the frozen waste lands to the pole.

The third resulted in this visit to the pole proper.

Hattie Bad Weather

Bad weather endangered this last flight just as almost every flight since the "Italia" left Italy had been handicapped. Starting out at 4:25 a. m., Wednesday morning, Nobile headed for north Greenland.

The first part of the tour was reported excellent. Then, apparently, bad weather set in. Major Vali, in Vadsø, Norway, reported he had received word that the big dirigible was fighting poor

SECOND DEFICIENCY MEASURE ADOPTED

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The second deficiency appropriation bill, carrying approximately $15,000,000, was passed late today by the senate.

As passed by the house, the bill carries about $100,000,000.

Some of the large items added by the senate were:

Mississippi river flood control, $15,000,000; air navigation facilities for the department of commerce, $1,000,000, and eradication of the pink boll worm $5,000,000.

who were on trial were intimate with the dealings of the Julian company. If the district attorney's office had presented the case properly the result would have been different."

The trial lasted more than 20 weeks and cost between $250,000 and $300,000.

The verdict brought to a close the first of the various prosecutions arising from the collapse of the oil corporation.

The original indictment returned against this particular group named 11 defendants. One, A. Swanson, of New York, was not asked to come here for the trial.

Three others were dismissed during the course of the case and at the request of defense counsel. The seven on whom the jury passed verdict were believed most closely related to the stock manipulations.

The defendants specifically were charged with two counts: the first, conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses, and the second, conspiracy to violate the state corporation securities act.

Accused of Conspiracy
They were accused specifically of conspiring to over-issue stock. The over-issue of between 4,000, 000 and 5,000,000 shares caused the failure of the oil corporation.

Discussing the verdict today, Mrs. Flora Pyle, who led the jurors, declared the indictments were drawn incorrectly, else certainly some of the defendants would have been found guilty.

The district attorney's office was not present convincing evidence that there was a conspiracy between the men and the men were charged with conspiracy.

The jury felt that some of the defendants were guilty of wrongdoing in Julian affairs, but not under the indictment charging conspiracy. If different indictments had been obtained some of these defendants would have been found guilty.

Arthur M. Loeb, a leader among the 40,000 stockholders who lost money in the Julian collapse, condemned the district attorney's of- fice.

"More than 4,000,000 shares of stock were over-issued and sold. Someone over-issued the stock and someone sold it. The men

Delay Action On Farm Bill Veto

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Farm bloc leaders decided today to delay until tomorrow any action on President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief measure.

The senate agriculture committee, composed of bloc chiefs, met briefly, but reached no decision as to whether any efforts would be made to override the veto. It will meet again tomorrow.

Many farm bloc members believe they have insufficient votes to pass the bill over the veto and that it would be a waste of time to force a vote. Others think that "it is due the producing sections of the country" to carry the fight on to a conclusion.

Conferences Today
Private conferences will be held through the day in an effort to reach some agreement.

Meantime the veto message was upon the senate table ready to be called up for a vote or referred to a committee at any time.

a committee of five engineers appointed by the president before work is begun.

It defeated an amendment by Douglas, which would eliminate the requirements for a dam at Boulders canyon, leaving the selection of a site to a presidentially appointed board of five.

Rejects Colton Proposal

The house continued to reject amendments not approved by sponsors of the bill by voting down one offered by Representative Colton, Republican, Utah, requiring approval of the project by the attorney general, and another by Douglas, requiring that bonds be posted to cover the $125,000,000 appropriation required.

The house adopted an amendment by Representative Moore, Democrat, Virginia, approved by the irrigation committee, requiring approval by the president of acts of the secretary of interior, in carrying out the project.

FUND QUIZZERS MAY HOLD COAST SESSION

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The senate campaign committee decided today to go to Ohio, Indiana, New York and possibly West Virginia and California after congressional adjournment.

The trip to Ohio and Indiana will be undertaken immediately after adjournment. After this dual inquiry, the committee will decide whether the West Virginia visit is warranted. If not it will go direct to New York to question workers at Hoover and Smith headquarters there.

The California investigation probably will be undertaken by Chairman Stetler and Senator Bratton, New Mexico, on their way home after the other business has been cleared up.

The committee wants to ascertain expenditures made by county organizations for the candidates in Indiana and Ohio, Stetler said. Hearings will be resumed here tomorrow.

flying conditions.

But the "Italia's" pilot was not to be discouraged. Reports came finally to the base here that the "Italia" had proceeded over the north of Greenland at 6 p. m., Wednesday night. Thence the "Italia" took a direct course to the pole.

Conditions Not Good

Apparently conditions at the pole were not good for the exploration. Nobles had planned. Before leaving Kings Bay he announced that when the pole was reached he would descend and that probably two members of his crew—a meteorologist and an engineer—likely would descend with him.

This plan, however, depended upon the weather and advices received here indicated there had been no attempt to land any of the "Italia's" party.

Rides Taxi 16 Miles To Get Dress Bargain

When the Register ran a Smart Shop advertisement Monday, to the effect that two $15 dresses might be purchased on Tuesday for the price of one, it touched a responsive chord in the breast of a bargain-loving woman in Laguna Beach, and bright and early on Tuesday morning, she made her appearance at the store, selected her dresses, and went back to her home in "Our Village," satisfied and happy.

That doesn't seem anything out of the ordinary, does it? But there are other details that make her experience an unusual one. For the bargain-loving woman was without an automobile, and the bus schedule would not have permitted her to be at the store in time for an early selection. Did she allow that to deter her from the trip? She did not. She called a taxi for that sixteen miles trip to Santa Ana—and the sixteen miles back to the beach city, and was among the very first shoppers to be admitted to the store.

Broken By Lagoons

"The beaches of the western part of the county are broken by extensive natural lagoons. Anaheim bay and Bolsa lagoon, teeming with bird life and treasure houses for the conchologist, both as yet undeveloped but both possessing great potential value. The western boundary meets the ocean at the entrance to Alamitos bay which although it lies for the greater part in Los Angeles county, still adds to the attractiveness of our westernmost community, the thriving little city of Seal Beach.

"Adjacent to Seal Beach on the east the entrance to Anaheim bay, protected as it is by Catalina Island and Point Vincente, some day will be developed into a safe passage to the inland waters of Sunset Beach. Progressing eastward we find Orange county's coast's most important industry in Huntington Beach, where a forest of oil wells is pumping an ocean of black gold from beneath the tumbling blue breakers of the Pacific—black gold—the liquid fuel to heat our homes, run our automobiles, fly our airplanes and carry the nation's commerce over the sea. Oil wells are not the only evidence of progress to be seen in Huntington Beach. We notice as we pass, one of the finest pleasure piers in Southern California spanning the breaker line to the ocean beyond.

Quaint Little Fishing Village

"Coming to Newport we find a quaint little fishing village transformed into a rapidly developing marine community with boat building establishments, ways, docks, warehouses, an active fishing fleet and other evidences of maritime ambition. Reaching that part of the city of Newport Beach known as Balboa, we find a community given to the sea, the beach and the ocean. The harbor bell rings out the note of our aspiration and through the night hours the entrance beacon flashes the message that our purpose to build a harbor lives on despite disappointments which provincialism sometimes sends our way. We are aiming high, but we do not despise our small beginnings nor overlook humble means of progress.

Beautiful Cliffs, Canyons

"Eastward from the naturally beautiful entrance to Newport harbor the cliffs of Corona Del Mar lead on past crag and canyon to the picturesque and unique settlement of Laguna, which, together with beaches, are a community given

Beach City, now and thriving San Clemente, share the gleaming beaches and towering cliffs of our eastern shore.

"We of Orange county have been so occupied with our very successful agricultural pursuits that we scarcely have had time to realize the possibilities of maritime development—we have lacked a sea consciousness. Some day we will awaken to our advantages and capitalize our opportunities. Water has ever been the greatest medium of transportation and the sea lanes of the world lead to our door. Industries which require cheap transportation well know that for moving large quantities of goods water is the most economical means ever devised. Anything that can be shipped at all can be shipped by water. John Masefield's lines on "Cargoes" well illustrate the diversity of materials which find their way about on the sea:

"Quintuplets of Nineveh from distant Ophir,

Rowing home to haven in sunny Palestine,

With a cargo of ivory,

And apes and peacocks,

Sandalwood, cedarwood, and sweet white wine.

"Stately Spanish galleon coming from the Isthmus,

Dipping through the Tropics by the palmgreen shores,

With a cargo of diamonds,

Emeralds, amethysts,

Topazes, and cinnamon, and gold moidores.

"Dirty British coaster with a salt-caked smoke stack

Butting through the channel in the mad March days,

With a cargo of Tyne coal,

Road rails, pig-lead,

Firewood, iron-ware, and cheap tin trays."

Broadened Outlook Coming

"With the development of marine activity will come a broadening of our outlook and an interest in more cosmopolitan affairs as well as the acquisition of a seafaring population. Since the dawn of history, men who go down to the sea in ships have been marked as daring and adventurous spirits, eager for action and willing to undertake new enterprises. The man of the sea, whether he be one who makes a business of seamanship or one who follows the sea as an avocation, is likely to be a colorful and interesting citizen. The hold which the sea gets on its devotees

That's why Pete De Paolo, speed-king of America, bought a Flying Cloud for his own use—when he's not burning up the bricks at Indianapolis; that's why he joined the Reo sales-force in Southern California and is making a great sales-record—and hosts of new friends—in that toughest of all markets.

It's why he asked—and received—permission to christen the world's champion race-car—the car that in 1927 carried him to his second world's speedway championship—"Flying Cloud Special." His racing-car is not a Reo Flying Cloud; neither is the Reo Flying Cloud a racing-car.

But they're both thoroughbreds. They're both built to stand out above the rank and file. They're both built to stand the gaff—to "go through," in other words.

The Reo Flying Cloud has received no finer tribute—and it has received many—than Pete De Paolo paid it when he gave its name to his own championship racing-car, and identified himself with the organization that builds it.

AUTOMOBILE racing has its place in the scheme of things, no doubt.

To the grueling tests of the Speedway—at Culver City, at Indianapolis, at the Monza Grand Prix—is due a large part of present-day automobile racing. Racing speed is for the Speedway, not for the public highway.

That's why the Flying Cloud is not built to do "100 miles an hour." It's why we don't even claim 100 miles an hour.

It will do more than 75 miles an hour—75 honest miles. And that's fast enough. It's faster than the average driver ever wants to go. And it's faster than the average driver ever has safe and lawful opportunity to drive.

But the possession of that 75-miles-per-hour capacity implies the possession of other characteristics that the average driver does want—the flashing acceleration that gets him away from the traffic-barrier ahead of the pack; the "zoom" that picks up the traffic pockets with record speed and with perfect safety; and the man-saving and motor-saving surplus of power for the hills and the mountains.

Reports received at the board of education offices reveal that some citizens are wondering why the board of education has not made a more extensive use of the new Washington grammar school, located on North Main street, almost opposite the Frances E. Willard junior high school. In reply to this query, it was stated by Superintendent J. A. Cranston that the building is now being used by June 5, next, will be completed at a meeting of the citizen's general campaign committee, to be held tomorrow, Friday, at 4 p. m. at the Frances E. Willard junior high school, according to an announcement by O. H. Barr, chairman of the general campaign committee.

The meeting has been called for the purpose of discussing ways and means of acquainting the voters with the needs of the schools, and to distribute the forces of the general committee over a number of sub-committees, assigned to particular duties in connection with the campaign.

Plans for an educational campaign to be conducted next week in connection with the $1,276,000 school bond issue, to be voted on June 5, next, will be completed at a meeting of the citizen's general campaign committee, to be held tomorrow, Friday, at 4 p. m. at the Frances E. HUGE TREE IN BIRCH PARK IS CUT DOWN

A struggle for supremacy that has lasted for nearly 20 years ended here this week, when the huge eucalyptus tree on the Birch street side of Birch park was cut down. A decision to take out the tree was reached when it was seen that one of a trio of palms, near which it stood, was gradually being pushed over by the gum tree.

In its attempt to secure room for expansion, the eucalyptus tree had forced the top of the palm tree about four feet south of its base. Rather than destroy the symmetrical arrangement of the three palms, the eucalyptus was cut down. All of the trees are said to be among those set out at the time the park was first given to the city. They replaced a hedge of lime trees that bordered Birch street, then a country road. The eucalyptus is of the sweet gum variety with a smooth surface that shows deep indentations made by the sawing of the palm branches against its surface.

Superintendent Cranston went on to explain that it is the intention of the school authorities to use the Washington grammar school, now located in what may be termed the business district, for an administration building.

With the growth of the city, and corresponding increase in school population, it will be necessary to secure additional quarters for the

CONTRACT FOR CITY ENGINEER IS CONSIDERED

LAGUNA BEACH, May 24.—Further consideration of the contract for city engineering between A. J. Stead and the city, ordered signed at the council meeting last week but not yet executed, consisted an hour of the time of the city fathers last night, but resulted in no change.

Argument against the contract with questions concerning it, was led by C. Leon de Aryan, licensed surveyor and resident of the city, who expressed much doubt of the advisability of the contract, and questioned certain features of it, notably the rate of pay allowed for certain assistants to the engineer and the responsibility of the engineer.

Others entered into the argument until Councilman William W. Ridell wanted to know whether it was a council meeting or merely a town meeting.

The issue was raised by Councilman C. R. Clapp, but his doubts on the subject were apparently quieted by the questions and answers. He withdrew his motion to reconsider the contract.

In addition to minor matters, the council was given an explanation of the improvement plan designed for Broadway, maps being shown by City Engineer Stead. The dip street to be used for overflow of the slough in times of high water were explained. The street improvements were asked by more than 90 per cent of property owners.

NEVER IN THE HISTORY OF DENTISTRY HAS SCIENCE MADE BETTER DISCOVERIES IN TEETH AND PLATE MATERIAL THAN SINCE THE WORLD WAR.

It is predicted, in five years the common Vulcanite Rubber Plate Material will be past history. This day and age people demand the better things in life and are willing to pay for them.

It cannot be denied that Vulcanite, as the most commonly employed base material in the past, falls way short of serving as a substitute for the natural. Even at its best it is dead and opaque, and has been the cause for much mental anguish and embarrassment to the patient. Late discoveries make it possible that the public can be served today with a plate material that is life-like; a material in color of your gum, in fact your closest friend will say, "They look like your own TEETH." During the experimental stage of five years 100,000 plates have been made and proven satisfactory.

Doc Atwell and Clark, one of the largest dental organizations in California, offices Broadway at Fourth, Santa Ana; 140 West Center Street, Anaheim; corner Garvey at Second, over Pomona Commercial and Savings Bank, Pomona, are making these wonder plates and today hundreds of their gratified patients recommend this life-like plate to their friends.

PLANS MEXICAN PROGRAM FOR HIGH SCHOOL

In an effort to promote better understanding between this country and Mexico, the department of foreign education at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Ricciardi and Miss Ruth Frothingham, will stage a special Mexican program at 8 p. m. Saturday, in Andrews gymnasium, it was announced today.

Joel Quinones, Mexican consul at Los Angeles, will attend the affair and will deliver an address.

J. A. Cranston, superintendent of schools, will be among the guests and Mayor F. L. Purinton, City Manager W. G. Knox, with other city officials and leaders in the community have been invited to attend.

Admission will be free, but a silver offering will be taken to defray the expenses of bringing several artists here from Los Angeles. All Santa Ana is invited to enjoy the music and to watch the dance which will take place in the gymnasium after the musical program.

Solita De Yo, dancer; Edward Delgado, singer; the Santa Ana Mexican orchestra; Jose Perez, pianist from Los Angeles and the Conservatory of Music at Mexico City; S. Aguilar, violinist from Los Angeles; Luis Cordero, Los Angeles guitar player; Felicitas Ozacaco, singer with the Santa Monica Municipal band, and the Rev. Ballasteros of Orange, will join in entertaining the audience, Mrs. Ricciardi said.

Estellita Zarco, 9, diminutive singer and dancer, is expected to be one of the most striking artists on the program.

YOU CAN TELL A SCOTTISH CLAN BY THE COLOR OF ITS PLAID

Your eyes will tell you about Gasoline if you'll look...

EARLY day automobileists really knew very little about gasoline. There were but few service stations. Gasoline was drawn from fifty-gallon drums. And because there were no advertised brands, people simply asked for "gasoline."

Gasoline is gasoline. Beans are beans. Sugar is sugar. People used to reason that way—twenty years ago—when two-cylinder automobiles were considered powerful—and one steered with a tiller.

But today, people know that there is a difference in gasoline. And just how good a gasoline really is, depends upon a great many different things—what kind of crude oil the refiner uses—what sort of process he employs—how much money he is willing to spend in making each gallon—whether he wants low quality and top profits—or top quality and low profits.

And here is a fact that can't be dodged: Just as it is within the province of the manufacturer to make good baking powder or cheap baking powder—good shoes or cheap ones—so it is within the province of the refiner to market good gasoline or poor gasoline—as he chooses.

RADIO Station KEJK is operated by the Macmillan Petroleum Company. It broadcasts on a wavelength of 252 meters at a frequency of 1190 kilocycles. The studio is located on the corner of Canon Drive and Brighton Way, Beverly Hills.

We invite you to listen in at home—or to visit our studio, any Monday, Tuesday, Thursday or Friday evening, from six until twelve o'clock.

Years Ago We Decided This

Years ago—before we ever turned out a drop of gasoline, we determined that Macmillan Gasoline must be the finest gasoline possible to produce—bar none.

We determined that we would think of quality first and profits last. We believed that if we made a superior kind of gasoline, people would appreciate our efforts and buy our product—again and again.

And so we started in with the crude oil from which gasoline is refined. Instead of drawing crude oil from here, there and everywhere, we secured the production to take care of our needs from just one field—Signal Hill. And Signal Hill crude has the reputation of making the finest gasoline in the United States.

This plan gave us the same kind of oil to work with each day—the characteristics of which we could determine and which we could bank on as remaining constant.

Your Wife Will Agree With This

No baker can make uniformly good bread if he has a different flour to work with each day. No refiner can make a uniformly good gasoline if he gets his oil from different sources.

Our next step was to devise a new and better method of distillation. Gasoline which is merely distilled once can be called gasoline. But, in the Macmillan method of distillation—fractionation, some people call it—the gasoline is distilled from twenty to thirty times—every drop of it.

You know that triple distilled alcohol, bay rum or any other distillery product is better than that which is only distilled once. Therefore it logically follows that gasoline distilled over and over again in the process of refining must be unusually good gasoline.

Signal Hill Crude Oil, from which Macmillan Gasoline is made, has the reputation of making the finest gasoline in the United States

Our next step was to treat and process Macmillan Gasoline so that it would be singularly free from impurities. Many gasolines have a high sulphur content. Sulphur in gasoline makes sulphuric acid in your motor. And sulphuric acid will in time eat the heart out of any motor.

We might talk to you for pages, showing you point by point just why Macmillan is the supremely fine gasoline that it really is.

But after all, you are primarily interested in only one thing—what Macmillan Gasoline will do for you in your car.

You Must Get More Miles from Each and Every Gallon

The oil that we use—the methods we employ—the money we spend in treating and filtering enable us to make a very strong and unique guarantee: Macmillan Gasoline in your car—with your foot on the throttle, will give you more miles to the gallon than any gasoline you have ever used—or your money back.

Nothing we could say could show greater confidence in our product. And if this statement is true—and true it must be—then it certainly would pay you in dollars and cents to use Macmillan Gasoline in your car.

You can tell Macmillan Gasoline by its different appearance—just as you can tell cloth by its feel or perfume by its fragrance. "Is it tinted?" you ask. No. Because the natural impurities have been removed from Macmillan Gasoline, it is crystal white in color. Ten degrees clearer by the color scale than the clearest mountain brook water.

Just drive into any service station displaying the cardinal and white Macmillan sign. Look up at the gasoline in the pumps. Pick out the whitest, clearest gasoline that you see. Then look down at the name on the pump. You will find it Macmillan.

You wouldn't buy an automobile without seeing it. Get in the habit of looking at the gasoline you use. Your eyes will tell you what kind of gasoline to buy.

Music Memory Contest

Those making perfect scores in the music memory contest in the first grade, were James Adams, Rowland Allsman, Milton Arborn, Arthur Beard, Celia Beaudette, Helen Crowther, Bryce Eastman, Ross Frisbie, Marguerite Grant, Dick Hardy, Edward Hutchison, Barbara Ann Jennings, Ralph Leabo, Louis Marval, Marian McCollom, Harold Montana, Beulah Kathryn McGee, Ruby Nichols.

Skin Specialists Tell Women To Use Buttermilk For Complexion Worries

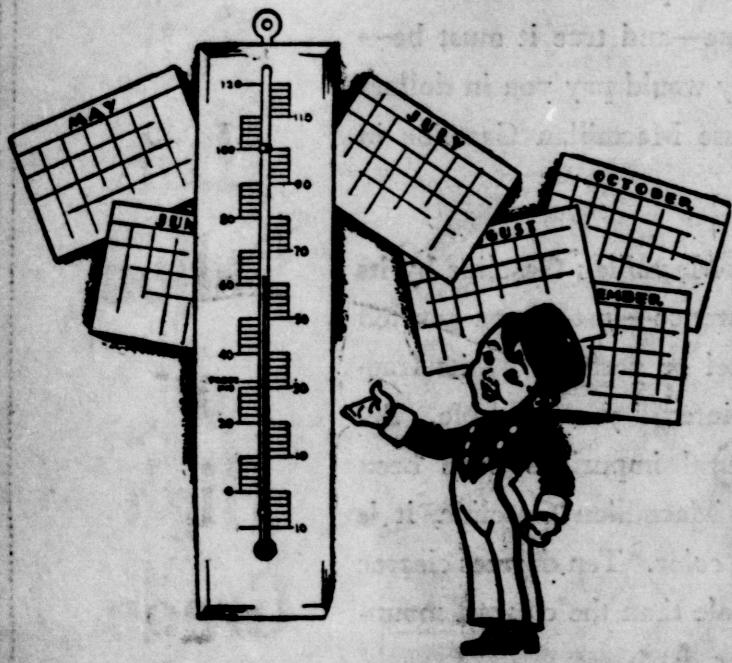

Girls and women who are not satisfied with the results they are getting with the creams and skin treatments they are using now can do nothing better than to go back to the old fashioned recipe of buttermilk and cream.

There has never been such an aid to beauty as buttermilk. Famous beauties of all the ages as far back as Cleopatra used it and the modern woman would do well to forget the elaborate combination treatments and follow their lead.

Fresh buttermilk isn't always obtainable, however, but scientific chemists have overcome this difficulty by combining a concentrated form of genuine old-fashioned buttermilk with cream which you can get from any druggist by asking for Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

It takes but a few applications of Howard's Buttermilk Cream to show that there is nothing so good, so easy to use and so quick in producing a truly remarkable improvement in the tone and texture of your complexion. But let me tell you for yourself. If you are not convinced your money will be refunded.—Ad.

For a Cool, Comfortable Home this Summer . . . Use Electricity!

This summer let electricity keep your home cool and comfortable. Try this program in your home . . . cook on an electric range, refrigerate with an electric refrigerator, use fans to provide cooling breezes, an electric washing machine to do the week's laundry and an electric ironer to iron it, an electric vacuum cleaner to make short work of the cleaning and dusting . . . all for a few cents a day.

In the average home, on the Edison system, 1c will operate any of the following appliances for the length of time given opposite each one

Electric Range	20 Minutes
Refrigerator	120 Minutes
Washing Machine	36 Minutes
Ironer	25 Minutes
Vacuum Cleaner	71 Minutes
Sewing Machine Motor	3 hrs, 14 min.
Vibrator	3 hrs, 4 min.
Curling Iron	7 hrs, 24 min.
50-Watt Lamp	3 hrs, 55 min.
Electric Fan	4 hrs, 30 min.

WOMEN IN SPORT LIMELIGHT

Here are two women you have been reading about in sport. On the left is Joan McShee, 14, who recently shattered six world records for backstroke swimming at Whitingville, Mass., acquiring a few more medals for her collection shown in the picture. On the right is Mlle. Nanette le Blan, of France, winner of the British Women's Open golf championship. Mlle. le Blan is regarded as the world's most promising feminine player.

END OF TRAIL NEAR FOR 54 MEMBERS OF PYLE CARAVAN; REACH NEW YORK SATURDAY

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 24.—The end of the trail approached today for the 54 runners who remain of the nearly 300 that started on the trans-continental footrace from Los Angeles, March 3.

Some limped. All were sun-burned. A few complained that blisters had developed on their feet in this 3000 mile trek over mountains, through deserts, and up and down national highways.

But everyone insisted today he would be among those to lop up to Eighth Avenue, New York, Saturday night and start a little ten-mile sprint in Madison Square Garden to mark the close of the trans-continental jaunt.

The elapsed time leaders at the start today for Saffern, N. Y., were:

Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., 556:08:07.

John Solo, Passaic, N. J., 573:26:31.

Philip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 591:28:54.

Mike Joyce, Cleveland, Ohio, 611:09:36.

Gustavo Umek, Trieste, Italy, 624:27:07.

William Kerr, Minneapolis, 632:06:18.

Louis Ferrell, Albany, N. Y., 655:34:27.

Ed Gardner, Seattle, 644:57:59.

Frank Von Flue, Kerman, Calif., 668:22:07.

John Cronick, Saskatoon, 649:24:34.

MRS. LIFUR OUT OF CHAMPIONSHIP PLAY

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 24.—With the assurance that a new Southern California women's golf champion will be crowned, the eight survivors in the championship flight of the 1928 event entered the third round at Bel-Air Country Club today.

Mrs. Gregg Lifur, defending titlist, was eliminated yesterday by Mrs. T. H. Pike, a dark horse, 6 and 3. Matches today:

Mrs. Harry Pressler and Mrs. E. S. Brown, Miss Kathleen Wright and Mrs. Roy Green, Mrs. T. H. Pike and Mrs. Harry Grossman, Mrs. Curt Rosenthal and Mrs. Dan Jones.

COURTHOUSE IS SIXTH VICTIM OF AUTO CLUB

After the first inning the Courtouse gave the undefeated Auto Club of Orange County a horse-race at Lincoln park yesterday but the Clubmen put on such a savage batting spree in the opening era that all of the later good work of the Parliamentarians went for naught.

The 7 to 3 triumph of the Clubmen was their sixth straight of the Santa Ana Twilight league campaign and left them still high and dry a full game ahead of their nearest rival, the American Legion Bugle and Drum corps.

Ray Bradfield and Everett Berry did the submarine. Berry didn't allow a hit for four innings and was scored on only in the sixth when hits by Bradfield, Anderson and Peterkin produced two tallies.

Bradfield was unsteady at the outset, bungles by Coffelt, Bigelow, Barker, Lackey and E. Bory and a walk to E. Jones resulting in five runs for the league-leaders. A triple by C. Berry and a single by Schuyler Bigelow, who banged out four safeties during the matinee, added one more in the second and a walk to C. Berry and Bigelow's third single meant another in the fourth.

The City Hall and the Shell Oil company mix today in the closing game of the week's schedule. The box score:

JACK SLATTERY QUILTS AS BOSS OF BOSTONIANS

BOSTON, Mass., May 24.—The sensational trade that took Rogers Hornsby from the New York Giants to the Boston Braves has now made the famous second baseman manager of the Hub's entry in the National league.

Jack Slattery resigned as manager last night and Hornsby promptly was offered the job and accepted.

This is twice that Hornsby, once the greatest batter in the National league, has been a managing player.

He led the St. Louis Cardinals to a National league pennant and thence to a world's championship.

Under the leadership of the brilliant Hornsby, it is hoped, the Braves will show new life. A statement by President Emil Fuchs said the owners of the club, basing their decision on conditions, judgment and information of conditions were "constrained to accept the offered resignation of Slattery."

"It is our hope he will remain with the Braves in a different department, one which may be more congenial and give him further opportunity in the line of his vocation, at the same salary and terms specified in his present contract."

"We have, after much persuasion, obtained the consent of Mr. Rogers Hornsby to accept the management of the Braves."

SHAFER, TAYLOR MAKE RECORD IN P.C.B.C. DOUBLES

OCEAN PARK, May 24.—Tim Shafer and Cy Taylor, Los Angeles, broke the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress doubles record when they rolled for a grand total of 1311 to take the lead in the two-man event on the Dome Recreation alleys yesterday.

Shafer featured with 717 on games of 213, 255 and 249. Harry Meek and Rufus Meek now hold second place.

PADDOCK EXPECTED IN L. A. SATURDAY

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—Charlie Paddock is due here Saturday to enter training for the "Race of the Century" in the Southwest Olympic finals June 16.

Paddock and his featured opponents in the 100-yard event, Wykoff, Lombardi, Borash and Draper, will not be required to enter the preliminaries June 15.

PHIL FLOTO MAKES FISTIC DEBUT SOON

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—Phil Floto, "Windy" Winsor's new heavyweight from the Northern California mines, will probably make his ring debut at the Olympic June 5 in a 10-round bout with Vigo Doman.

TOD MORGAN DEFENDS HIS RING CROWN

NEW YORK, May 24.—The third world's championship fight within four days takes place tonight, Tod Morgan, of Seattle, defending his junior lightweight crown against Eddie ("Cannonball") Martin, who once "bossed the bantams."

Tonight's fight, which takes place at Madison Square Garden, is one between a clever boxer with a fast hand and no punch at all, and a rugged, two-fisted body-puncher with little science, but lots of persistence.

ORTEGA, MACK WIN TWO LEAD BOUTS AT BARN

George Ortega won the nod over Young Ford, Kid Mexico's Arizona protege last night at Boyd Ellis' Delhi boxing stable after four rounds of poor boxing. Young Ford, colored, had a good wallop but no brains to go with it and instead of using his gray matter the Arizona boy tried to listen to every word of coaching from Mexico, and as a result was helpless when out of hearing distance. Ortega didn't impress either, and the combination meant no fight.

Paul Gomez fought a hard fight and punched the colored Benny Mack all over the ring, receiving all Mack could give without flinching—but the flashy Oklahoma colored boy hit the most noisy and showy blows, thus receiving an ill-earned decision.

The best battle of the evening was put on by the fighting Santa Ana terror, Zenaydo Chavez, who after two knockdowns, succeeded in knocking out Frank Lopez at the first of the second round. Lopez was saved by the bell at the end of the first round.

Johnny Hernandez, Anaheim, won a close decision over Frank Lopez who became weakened during the last stanza although he outfought Johnny throughout the squeak.

In the second preliminary Atenio Hernandez, of Anaheim, won a close decision over George Moore. The fans audibly showed their dislike for the decision and although the fight was very even the aggressiveness of the Anaheim boy was the winning point.

Young Ray, Santa Ana, won a technical knockout over Dominick Dupree, L. A. A. C., when the latter's seconds threw in the towel.

HUNTER, BROOKES COMBINE DEFEATED

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, PARIS, May 24.—Ronaldo Boyd and Guillermo Robson, of Argentina, defeated Frank Hunter of the United States, and Norman Brookes, of Australia, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1, in the men's doubles in the French tennis championship today.

ELIGIBILITY CHANGES PILOT BOSTON NATIONALS

HE LAUGHS AT MISFORTUNE

Emerson ("Bud") Spencer, captain of the Stanford university track squad, is no accident as a cinderpath streak although he is the product of an accident. He lost an eye in an automobile crash in his freshman year at Stanford. He was a hurdler but had to give up the timber jumping business for the quarter-mile at which he is regarded as one of the best, if not the best in the world. Below, Spencer is on his marks.

GRANT LOSES IN AMATEUR GOLF MATCH

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 24.—Douglas Grant, British-American, was eliminated from the British Amateur golf championship in the fourth round today when A. R. Macallum, beat him two up. Macallum thereby entered the last sixteen.

Roger Wethered joined the last 16 by beating E. S. Brown, of Pollock, four up and three to play.

JULIA LATHROP SEVENTH'S WIN FROM WILLARD

The second game of the baseball series between Frances E. Willard and Julia C. Lathrop junior high schools went into extra innings yesterday before Lathrop turned in a 17 to 16 victory. The teams will collide again next week in their third and deciding rumpus.

Julia Lathrop got away to a flying start, scoring eight times in the first two frames but the North Main streeters came back strongly, registering five counters in the sixth and six more in the seventh to assume a four-run lead.

The Spartans tied it up in their part of the seventh, however, and an extra stanza was necessary before Lathrop batted in its winning mark. Bowe and Conrad made the tying and winning runs for the Southerners.

The second game of the two-out-of-three series between the Willard and Lathrop eighth grade girls will be played tomorrow.

COAST COLLEGE CONFERENCE TO ACT ON RULES

Eligibility rules as affecting junior colleges are to be recommended to the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference at the meeting this year that will place the two year institutions in an advantageous relation.

That was the outcome of a conference at Citrus Junior college, Asusa, which was attended by representatives of the Southland junior colleges. Dean McKee Fisk was the official delegate for Santa Ana and Walter Scott, supervisor of physical education for Santa Ana, also sat in on the sessions.

The Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference is to be asked to consider several rulings on athletic eligibility.

Willits Explains Plan

Hugh C. Willits, chairman of the admissions committee of the University of Southern California and a member of the Pacific Coast conference, explained before the junior college representatives the uncertainty of eligibility rulings among the various colleges to which students were being sent by the junior colleges.

Willits said that the four-year institutions were endeavoring to encourage the junior college movement and rulings were being worked out that would be beneficial to the junior colleges.

The Pacific Coast conference will be asked by Willits to permit a graduate student of a junior college three more years of competition in intercollegiate athletics, after the two years in junior college. That will entitle a junior collegian to five years of competition on the basis that the first year in junior college is equivalent to freshman athletics and the sophomore year is not of actual intercollegiate caliber.

Competition Limited

Junior college teams will be permitted to engage in games only against other junior colleges or freshman college teams, if the players are to retain eligibility for three years college athletics.

Behind the Blindfold...
John J. McGraw judges leading cigarettes and selects OLD GOLD

"I can tell what is happening in a ball game almost without looking at the field. There are 'signs' that managers know...the 'click' of a ball that's fairly hit...the rumble or the shout in the stands.

"I found there were also 'signs' by which you can tell the best cigarette in the blindfold test. Fine flavor...smoothness...comfort to the throat...all these made me vote at once for OLD GOLD."

Mr. McGraw was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, clearing his嗓子 with each successive smoke. Only one question was asked: "Which one do you like best?"

GRAHAM MAILED AS UNDISPUTED BANTAM CHAMP

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 24.—"Bushy" Graham, Utica, N. Y., pulled off the dusty bantamweight crown today and adjusted it on his bushy black head.

After nearly two years of wrangling among the 118-pounders, the division now has a legitimate titleholder.

Coming back to the ring after a year's suspension, Graham last night at Abbott Field defeated Corporal Issy Schwartz, recognized as the flyweight champion in New York state, in a 15-round bout promoted by both the New York State athletic commission and the National Boxing association as a titanic contest.

Outweighing Schwartz, six and a half pounds, Graham had little trouble outboring the little flyweight in the first 10 rounds and then outpunching him in the final stages.

A vicious attack in the fourteenth round half drove Schwartz through the ropes. When the corporal was pulled back into the ring, Graham dropped him for a count of nine with a series of rights and lefts. The bell rang as Schwartz came up, undoubtedly saving him from a knockout.

Schwartz's seconds revived him between rounds and he was able to last out the fifteenth only by staying in retreat and making Graham chase him.

Out of the 15 rounds, Schwartz won only two, the seventh and eighth and those by the barest of margins.

TED CRAIG TO SEEK POST OF ASSEMBLYMAN

Persistent rumors during the past few weeks that a northern Orange county man would be a candidate for the state assembly, were brought to a head today when Ted Craig positively announced to his friends that he had decided to file his nomination papers on June 1.

Craig has never been active in Orange county politics, but his career has been watched with keen interest by prominent men in all parts of the county, and his outstanding success with difficult assignments has caused many leading citizens to urge him to plunge into the political affairs of the state.

He is a member of the Brea city council and a director of the chamber of commerce, as well as president of the Oilfields National company, engaged in erecting a building in Brea for the Oilfields

National bank, of which he is a director.

For the past two years he has been general chairman in charge of the Boy Scout jamboree, during which time he has also served as a member of the Orange county fair board. His state office in the American Legion came as a reward for many years of service to the ex-service men, as commander for two consecutive years of his own post at Brea, and later as commander of the Orange county council.

He has been a resident of the Brea and Oildale district for 28 years, during which the oil fields have furnished very few aspirants for public office, one of the notable exceptions being Joe Burke, whose political career led up to United States District Attorney, and who is now practicing law in Santa Ana.

Rumors that others intend to file for the office of assemblyman, which Dr. D. C. Ball of Santa Ana is relinquishing to enter the race for state senator, could not be confirmed today, but Craig's supporters claim that he has had sufficient offers of support from so many parts of the county that he is justified in definitely announcing that he is a candidate and will pursue an active campaign for the office.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI WILL MEET JUNE 16

There will be more handshaking and less eating at this year's annual reunion of alumni of Santa Ana high school, than has characterized former reunions.

Announcement to this effect was made today by Dixon W. Tubbs, president of the alumni association.

Dixon stated that the reunion is set for 8 o'clock on the evening of Saturday, June 16, at the high school gymnasium.

"The difficulties of securing a dinner for the alumni, who now number into the thousands," said Tubbs, "were such that it looked as though a reception would be better than the usual banquet. Moreover, the members of the association executive committee were unanimously of the opinion that the alumni gather more to talk to each other than to eat. Rather than have the reunion hours taken up with a dinner and speeches, we are to meet at the gymnasium at 8 o'clock, and not less than an hour is to be given over to mixing around. After that will come a short program, and those who want to dance can dance after 10 o'clock."

Tubbs stated that a general invitation is issued to all members of the high school faculty, and to former members of the faculty. Officers of the alumni association having the reunion in charge are: President, D. W. Tubbs; vice president, Carson Smith; secretary-treasurer, Miss Mary Wakeham; directors, Terry E. Stephenson, Miss Hazel Bemis, S. M. Reinhaus, Mrs. Elsie Wiegard, Daley, Edmund C. West, Leland Finley and Mrs. Mary Northrup Burlew.

INSTALL OFFICERS OF ORANGE P.-T. A.

ORANGE, May 24.—Officers for the coming year were installed at the last meeting of the Maple street P.-T. A., here, this week. Mrs. E. D. Stanley acted as presiding officer in the absence of Mrs. F. E. Hallman. Officers were installed as follows: President, Mrs. D. Rose; vice president, Mrs. R. C. Patton; secretary, Mrs. Vernon Shippee; treasurer, Mrs. S. W. Brown; parliamentarian, Miss Marguerite Bone; historian, Mrs. B. D. Stanley.

A round table discussion of several subjects of interest to P.-T. A. workers was an enjoyable feature of the afternoon's program. Mrs. E. D. Stanley gave an interesting talk on "Better Movies." She urged everyone present to patronize their home theater. A report of the recent exhibit of the elementary schools of the county was presented by Mrs. Stanley.

A man who came by wire in charge of the meeting, for out-of-town members of the association to take an active part in the coming school bond election.

Plans were revealed for the presentation of a book of poems to Mrs. F. E. Hallman, the retiring president, who is at present confined to her home by illness.

Little Ethel McCollum gave a solo and dance during the afternoon session. Miss Marguerite Bone was her accompanist.

STANTON

STANTON, May 24.—Mrs. Neilia Straw visited Mrs. Turner Monday afternoon.

EXCHANGE CLUB
IS ADDRESSED
BY S. A. EDITOR

NEWPORT BEACH, May 24.—Ideals should be regarded as obligations, and members of Exchange clubs and similar organizations should strive to hold themselves responsible for the ideals expressed in their codes.

This was one of the high lights of an address on "Our Responsibilities to Exchange" by J. Frank Burke of the Santa Ana Register at the weekly meeting of the Newport Beach Exchange club yesterday. Burke being one of four members who spoke on various phases of Exchange on "Exchange Education" day. The meeting was held at the Newport Harbor Yacht club, which will be the meeting place for some time to come. There will be no meetings on May 30 or July 4, both of which fall on Wednesday.

It was largely due to responsibility and fear of failure that many men realized great achievements, Burke said. These things drive people to success. It is better to have ideals, even if they are not lived up to fully, than to have none at all, he declared, because men are better men by merely trying to live up to them.

The publisher paid a tribute to the British people, who, he said, seemed able to differ so radically with each other on public questions without being personal foes. "In this country," he said, "there are too many of us ready to throw people into jail whose political opinions differ from our own."

Dr. Conrad Richter, former mayor, spoke on the "Social Ideals of Exchange" and urged that the club hold more meetings which members of the fair sex could attend.

"Life is far too short," said Dr. Richter, "to do all we would like to do. When you have had as much experience as I have you will have realized that."

Everyone should express their opinions on public matters, no matter what these opinions might be, said Lew H. Wallace, speaker on the subject of "Political Ideals of Exchange."

"How can you tell what and who is right, unless you hear a matter discussed," he asked. "There are public matters coming up all the time which should be discussed at just such meetings as this. There are issues now before the people of this district that should have our attention in public forum. But we should not advocate the election of candidates. Let us discuss issues fully, but favor no candidates."

Wallace said that very few men nowadays regarded the dollar as their first consideration. The world was getting nearer to the Exchange idea of "unity for service."

Charles H. Way, president of the chamber of commerce, speaking on Business Ideals of Exchange, said that as these ideals appeared to him, after close analysis, to be nothing more nor less than the high ethical standard of trade practices rooted deep in that philosophy known as the Golden Rule.

The Rev. W. T. Stockton, who was to have spoken on the "Religious Ideals of Exchange," was unavoidably absent.

SHEDDON NAMED FIRE CHIEF
AT TUSTIN: TWO ORDINANCES
ADOPTED BY CITY COUNCIL

TUSTIN, May 24.—Thomas Sheldon, former president of the volunteer fire department has been named chief of the city fire department, it was announced here today. Sheldon was placed in the office by the city council which recently took over the fire fighting equipment which has been maintained by the chamber of commerce for many years. Charles Logan, city councilman, was formerly chief of the department.

The fire fighters will continue their volunteer organization and will hold regular practices, it is reported. City officials took over the department equipment so that it might be kept in condition. Previously the equipment was rented condition about once a year by funds raised by an annual dance staged by the firemen. Louis Rehli was named assistant fire chief.

Two new city ordinances were adopted here by the council and will go into effect in 30 days. One of the ordinances regulates public eating places within the city limits while the other ordinance regulates the sale of meat and the operation of slaughterhouses in the city. Both are said to be identical with county ordinances.

Diagonal parking lines are being painted on Main street and D street, in the business section of town under the supervision of E. L. Kiser, chairman of the street department, and John Stanton, chief of police. The lines were ordered painted on the streets some time ago and an ordinance governing parking in the business section is now in effect.

The city council is expected to take up the question of securing a new meeting place at its next session June 4. The question has been discussed several times but no decision has been reached. At present the council holds its meetings in the club rooms of the Knights of Pythias hall.

BOLSA

BOLSA, May 24.—The card party given by the Bolsa social club with Mrs. Preston Strand and Mrs. Grant Eddy as co-hostesses, was a decided success, 50 persons joining in the games.

First men's prize went to Earl Hogg and second to Jake Rathke while ladies' first went to Miss Hickey, of Santa Ana, and second to Mrs. Clare Wardlow, of Westminster, and the door prize to W. L. Walton. Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served.

The next club card party is scheduled for the evening of June 7.

A party composed of Mrs. Stella Farnsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Howard, Roy Ratke, George Hess, and Jack Sargent, were guests Saturday evening at a card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lewis in Orange.

Mrs. E. S. Neil and Miss Flora Hell were guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Harding.

Ralph Ross has rented his house south of Bolsa to a Mr. Petty who with his family have just arrived from Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Davenport, of San Diego, visited Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Price. Mr. Davenport is an aviation mechanic and worked on the "Zenith Albatross" when it was being constructed at the local airport.

HOUSEHOLDEnjoyable Luncheon Is Compliment to Guest
From San Francisco

Complimenting Mrs. Ella Wilcox of San Francisco who is visiting her niece, Mrs. Walter Fine of West Santa Clara avenue, was an enjoyable luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Lottie Grouard, in her home at 1074 West Fourth street.

Colorful flowers were used to brighten the home, and to add charm to the linen-draped table where guests were seated for the appetizing luncheon menu. Covers were placed for the hostess, Mrs. Grouard, her honor guest, Mrs. Wilcox, Mrs. Walter Fine, Mrs. William Schonberg, Mrs. Belle Meacham, Mrs. Carl Mock, all of this city, and Mrs. Joseph McElroy of Los Angeles. Mrs. Mock and Mrs. McElroy are daughters of the hostess, and Mrs. Meacham is her sister.

The afternoon was spent in conversation as an accompaniment to the needlework with which each guest was provided.

Ebell Society to Give Bridge Evening on June FourthRetiring P.T. A. Head
Entertains Teachers
And Board Members

Card enthusiasts have a delightful evening in store in the near future, for announcement was made today of a big public card party for Monday night, June 4, at Ebell clubhouse, with members of the board of educators of Ebell society, as hostesses.

Plans for the affair were pretty well formulated before being made public, and Mrs. F. E. Coulter, president of the society, named Mrs. W. H. Haddon as general chairman.

Working under Mrs. Haddon are a number of sub-chairmen and their committees, and everything bids fair to run like clock-work, and result in one of the pleasantest parties ever sponsored by the Ebell women.

Play will be in the peacock room, and 300 guests may be entertained. Those planning to be present may make their ticket or table reservations through any member of the board, and Ebell members themselves, may obtain tickets next Monday at the May program meeting in the clubhouse.

Mrs. Cood Adams has accepted the chairmanship of the decorating and reception committee, and assisting her will be Mrs. Coulter, the president, Mrs. Clarence A. Gustlin and Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks. Mrs. Archie V. Herr will have charge of the tables and chairs, and working with her will be Miss Lula Minter and Mrs. Emerick Marks. Refreshments will be planned by Mrs. J. H. Metzgar with the aid of Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mrs. Clyde Bach and Mrs. Charles Crayton, while that important committee which chooses prizes, with tickets as an added responsibility, will be made up of Mrs. W. H. Harrison, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Smedley and Mrs. Frank Peterson.

You and Your Friends

James Irvine sr. returned yesterday to his home in San Francisco following an extended visit at his home here, on the San Joaquin ranch.

Post Office Inspector F. E. Jarvis of San Diego, is spending a few days in Santa Ana where he is registered at St. Ann's Inn.

Mrs. Emma L. Mitchell of 120 West Eighteenth street has left for Chicago from where she will go to Gainsburg, Ind., to spend the summer with relatives.

Mrs. George D. Campbell of 908 Garfield street, has left for a trip in the east, which will take her through Nebraska, Iowa and Kansas. While in Nebraska she will be the guest of her two daughters, Mrs. George Armstrong and Mrs. Howard Armstrong.

Miss Carrie Waugh of Newtonville, Mass., is a house-guest at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Emma French of 218 East Ninth street.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Van Why of 2234 Bonnie Brae are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Luigi Valiani of Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Valiani is Mrs. Van Why's niece. Mr. Valiani is music editor of the Kansas City Journal Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burns of 216 Spurgin street have announced plans to leave Sunday morning for an extended eastern trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Juden left today for Yosemite Valley. Mrs. Juden is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fost.

The Women's Forum is receiving gratifying recognition from other clubs in the city, and has been asked to supply speakers to aid in putting over the approaching school bond election.

Women's Forum

The Women's Forum enjoyed its semi-monthly meeting at a delightful luncheon Tuesday noon in the Y. M. C. A. dining room.

Mrs. Beulah Crilly acted as toastmistress very admirably, and introduced the speakers. Mrs. Minnie Mayhull told of the printing business giving some interesting facts beginning with the manufacture of the paper until it goes to press. Mrs. Bass Mott talked about music and urged everyone to learn more about the masters and their works.

Mrs. Hilma Curran chose as her subject "Prosperity in Orange County" which was in keeping with "Know Orange County" week. Mrs. Nettie Tannenbaum gave a splendid talk on personality.

Mrs. Margaret Tannenbaum took the affirmative on whether the United States should give military aid to Nicaragua. Mrs. Esther Grans took the negative side. Their arguments showed excellent preparation and were given exceptionally well.

Mrs. Lillie Harrison followed with an original musical number giving an account of a party at the Y. M. C. A. cabin at Modjeska's recently enjoyed by a group of women from the morning gym class at the Y.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Buffet Supper Dance at Santa Ana Country club tomorrow night, will be the final one of the series which has offered such enjoyable dancing parties at monthly intervals, throughout the winter and spring months. In order to make this closing party a memorable one, T. F. McOllivray, Country club manager, has arranged for unusually fine music, and has selected the popular LeRoy Parry KMTR and KFI orchestra. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and supper will be served around 11.

St. Ann's Inn

The Logical Place in Santa Ana to Lunch or Dine

Every family goes through the experience of having unexpected guests arrive—why not bring them to St. Ann's Inn and entertain them at dinner, luncheon or breakfast?

St. Ann's Inn has three private dining rooms where small bridge luncheons may be served—and remember, there is no party too small to receive the most courteous attention at all times.

Ebell Society

Travel Section Luncheon
Mrs. Minnie Fields, Mrs. S. A. Jones and Mrs. M. C. Williams entertained members of Ebell's Second Travel section at a delicious luncheon in Ross Arbor Inn, as the May event of the section.

The Chinese room of the Inn was reserved for the affair, and tables were beautifully decorated with clusters of panes, while hand-painted butterfly place cards were in harmonious colors.

Following the appetizing luncheon, Miss Waugh of Boston, a niece of Mrs. Emma French, entertained with a beautifully played piano solo. This was followed by two solos sung by Mrs. Luigi Valiani, who was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. T. Van Why.

Miss Ruth Armstrong acted as Mrs. Valiani's accompanist, and the beautifully rendered songs were Tosti's "Lullima Canzone," (sung in Italian) and "Thank God for a Garden" by Teresa Del Diego.

The soloist's husband is Luigi Valiani, well known music critic.

The bride chose a lovely frock of golden yellow crepe de chine with deep fringe trimming, while her bridesmaids, Miss Helen Henderson of Los Angeles, was gowned in orchid crepe. Mr. Forder was assisted by his brother, William Forder, as best man.

The marriage service was performed in an impressive manner by the Rev. Father F. A. Connolly, pastor of St. Ann's church. Guests were confined to members of the two families, who were entertained later at a wedding breakfast in the home at 431 McClay street, before the new Mr. and Mrs. Forder left for their honeymoon trip.

If editors can be arrested and fined for printing in newspapers pictures of ladies which the ladies or their admirers deem unflattering, one wonders just what great reward the editors can and will legitimately demand for making plain girls look beautiful. What every editor knows above all else is the dire things that would happen if he made ladies look in his paper as they really do look.

Here's hoping that the arrest and fining of the Spanish editor by Dictator Primo de Rivera because he alleged that picture of his fiancee, Senorita Castellano, which the editor published was unfair to the lady's ankles, results in a defense mechanism for editors who can collect thousands for making plain ladies look fair. Sauce for goose—sauce for gander.

MONKEYS SHOW US

Marzo is a baby boy gorilla in an Antwerp zoo. His sister was the famous little Miss Congo who died on a rich man's estate in Florida the other day. Miss Congo, science says, literally died of a broken heart at separation from her brother.

IGNORANT COMMENT

The gorilla babies in the woods were captured in the African jungle by Ben Burbridge, author of "Gorilla." Marzo and Miss Congo, chained together on the deck, terrified and lonely, clung to one another in tragic affection and snapped if anyone came near. But for all this orphaned love lavished on one another, Miss Congo was taken to America and Marzo left in Antwerp.

Science says that orphaned brothers and sisters have always infinitely more affection for one another than those with parents. Too bad the parents must die in order for their broods to love one another. Too bad, too, that human families are becoming so selfishly individualized that the gorilla world must offer a rare example of brotherly and sisterly love.

POOR BETSY!

Consider poor Queen Elizabeth. "She was a most unhappy woman," says Harford Powell, Jr., author of "The Virgin Queen." "She had pomp and power and flattery—but she lacked the one thing that every chambermaid can win, and that is the sincere love of a man. Think of those blackhearted scoundrels who fawned on her, pretending what they did not feel. That lizard, Dudley, gave her the mockery of love; if he had been able to put one honest note of passion into his voice, she would have stepped off the throne and married him—I can promise you that. Oh, a woman always can tell. You can feel her about most things, but when you say, 'I love you,' she knows by instinct whether you are lying or speaking true."

I wonder. Isn't it true that women, needing love so much, are only too willing and ready to be fooled?

"This houseboat is a handy thing," said Scouty, "hear the raindrops ring on the roof, but we are safe. It's very dry down here. 'Tis 'bout the best luck we've had yet. We would have been just soaking wet, but since the roof is over us, there's not a thing to fear."

The rain kept falling all about. It was a small cloudburst, no doubt. The water splattered here and there, and Clowny shouted, "Gee, quit pushing. I am near outside. If I get wet, I'll never be dried. Already lots of big raindrops have fallen right on me."

"Oh, don't be fussy," Copy said, "clean rain will never hurt your head." Just then the whole bunch jumped because they heard Scouty shout, "Hurrah! The storm is going to stop, and soon there will not be a drop of water falling down, because the sun is coming out."

Right soon they found that he was right. The warming sun was shining bright, and everyone went back to work to finish up their boat. When boards were placed along one side, the woodsmen eyed them. Then he sighed, "I wish we had a can of paint. We'd give the place a coat."

Real happily they worked away, and nailed on boards the livelong day. They all took turns at sawing, so's to cut them down to size.

The four big sides were soon in place. A smile spread on the woodsmen's face. Said he, "This goes to show what one can build, if he just tries."

WEST COAST-WALKER

The much heralded "Ramona," from Helen Hunt Jackson's novel of the same name, has at last arrived in our midst.

Last night, the West Coast-

Walker presented this film story which brings Dolores del Rio, that beautiful Mexican star of stars, to us in what may be classified as her greatest screen triumph.

"Ramona" was written by

Helen Hunt Jackson with a purpose. She did not know at the time of writing the story, that it would go down in history as one of the great American classics.

And Edwin Carewe, the director of "Ramona," has given the story to the screen in such a manner as might well be termed "screen-classic." This producer has abided by the story—so vital a matter in a case of this sort. It was Carewe, too, who directed

"Resurrection."

"Ramona" is a tale of early California—the days of the Mission

Indians—their trials and their tribulations. And "Ramona" came into being during that period. The story is filled with love interest.

TALBERT

TALBERT, May 24.—F. Kawachi, Japanese rancher living on the Laguna water company's land south of Talbert, died Monday morning following an illness of five minutes. He had always apparently enjoyed good health and fencing, occupied the afternoon.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Huntington Beach funeral chapel with interment at Central Memorial park. The deceased had been a resident of the Talbert section for about 10 years.

Sunday school and league services were held at the regular hours on Sunday but evening church services were dismissed to allow the congregation to assist in the tent meetings which opened at the site of the proposed new Southern Methodist church in the southern part of Santa Ana, the organization of which the local pastor, Rev. J. J. Woodson, is instrumental. The Rev. Mr. Keys and wife, evangelists, are in charge of the meetings and will be here at least four weeks, during which time there will be no church services at either of Mr. Woodson's charges.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Van Houten, of Long Beach, were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Talbert. Monday Mrs. Talbert's uncle, Jake Shrode, of Anaheim, was an overnight guest.

Mrs. Titus has purchased a lot in the Good tract and has had her house moved from her ranch east of Talbert onto the new property.

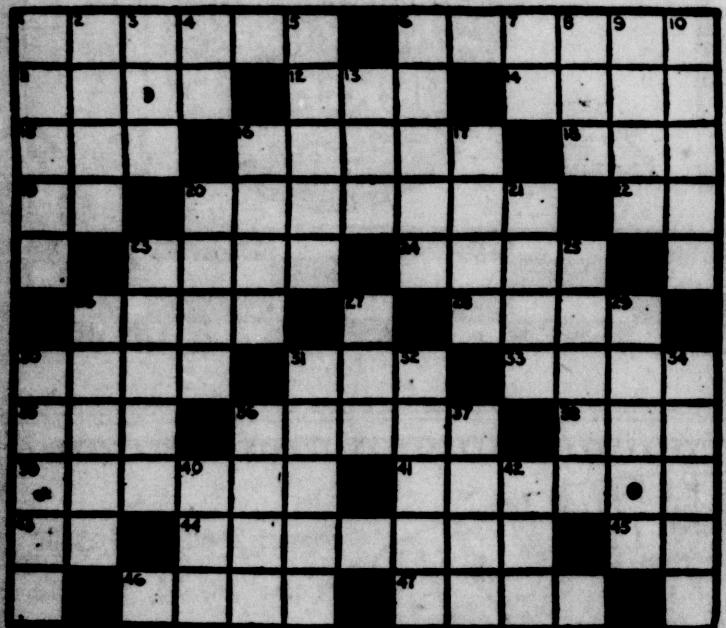

Mrs. Anna Helm spent the week-end at Riverside as the guest of her sister.

Rev. S. T. Ban, minister and local rancher who has been in Japan on an extended trip, will leave Hawaii June 1, to be present at the graduation of his daughter, Miss Helen Ban, from the Huntington Beach high school, June 12.

IS IT "PARACHUTED?"

Real safety in airplane flying at last! We have seen the figures that prove to us conclusively that it is safer to fly in an airplane than it is to drive an automobile, or to walk along the highway; and we know that these figures are correct. We are certain it is so. We have enjoyed riding in the airplane.

We have had much of our original fear dissipated by repeated trips, with beautiful take-offs and perfect landings, but we have realized that occasionally there is an accident. Occasionally someone has to leave a plane and use a parachute. Some way or other we have always felt safer and easier in the thought of being killed on the ground than dropping to our death, and we have hated the thought of leaving the airplane all alone, stepping right out into atmosphere and pulling the cord.

The pilot could only go with us and pull the cord for us, and in a smooth even voice say, as we stepped off together, "Take a deep breath, this won't hurt you at all," at least it would be less difficult to contemplate. But they don't "parachute" in pairs. The bloomin' word isn't spelled that way. It has got to be a lonely affair. All the pictures that we have seen of people flying through the air were the pictures of angels, and we have never been anxious to speed up in reaching that high state. But now there will be parachutes attached to the airplanes themselves and we won't have to use any individual umbrella. The pilot will do it all for us. It has already happened. They attached a big parachute to an airplane; the pilot shut off the power; it started to fall; he pulled a string; the parachute opened, and floated to earth practically uninjured. That is the way it should be done.

We used to ask, "Is there an air-brake on this train," or "on this car?" Soon they will be asking: "Is this plane parachuted?" Then we can be positive it is all right, and it will be so much easier to go down that way. You can come down in a doorway or on the back stoop, if you don't happen to hit the chimney, or the spire of a church or something else. As we are going along we may note that the power is shut off, and we are beginning to be "raised" to the earth, and we will turn around to the pilot and say, "What is the matter?" "Oh, nothing," he will reply, "I'm just going down to get a light for my cigarette." We can see a few difficulties in the way of getting back again into the air from some place where the plane may be forced to land, but the landing is being solved, even under all kinds of exigencies, and getting back into the air again wouldn't concern us, under dire emergencies, so that we would notice it much.

Laughter helps a weak heart, according to a story in a medical magazine. Maybe that's why you see so many old people in Washington, D. C.

DAILY DISPATCHES FROM THE POLES

Imagine it! Today we received news that General Umberto Nobile in his dirigible "Italia," flew over the North Pole. He did it this very morning and we read the dispatches just a few hours later and we are able to discuss it in the paper tonight—thousands of miles from the pole and from the dirigible ship. What are we coming to? We could know the weather condition at the North Pole this morning—not from prognostications of men thousands of miles away but from the man himself who is there.

How different it was years ago when Cook and Peary (and Franklin, who was somewhat before our time) and all the rest of the valiant, heroic men who sought out the frozen north to bring the knowledge of it to science and to civilization! Weeks and months and even years passed in the case of some before the knowledge of the disaster which ended their courageous voyage came to us, and in some cases the end is among the unsolved mysteries. But now, in the afternoon the ship takes off, cruises around over the North Pole and we read all about it in our daily paper. It will not be long before we can, from certain points in the northern and southern hemispheres, take off in dirigibles and with pleasure and as a holiday take the journey.

Progress in the elimination of time and distance has been taking place so rapidly of recent years that we have come to take it rather as a matter of course, and rather forget about it until something very unusual shocks us into consciousness of the really great progress that has been made.

A blind dog bit a deaf man in New York City. The dog was legally acquitted. How was a blind dog to know whether the man could hear or not?

RAMONA IN BOOK AND FILM

"Have you seen 'Ramona'?" We are not asking this with the thought that Senora Morena had when she was asking where Ramona was, but we mean the presentation of the classical story of "Ramona," which is being presented in Santa Ana.

We have seen some pictures of plays that were a travesty upon the story and upon the legitimate performance as it has been presented on the stage, but this is not true of "Ramona" as it is presented in this production. It is artistically and dramatically perfect.

It is faithful and accurate to the details of the immortal story written by Helen Hunt Jackson.

It increases the regard one has for the story of the history of California. The authoress wrote a book, the Indian, comparable to that which James Stowe did for the Negro through Uncle Tom's Cabin. And through this work of art, all the beauties and charms of old California perfectly come out, possibly the reading of which will be no place for regret.

A VALUABLE BOOK

Not long ago a young American woman went to Germany to visit her uncle, a jeweler.

He sold jewelry to many Americans and had a little book in which he marked down each sale—the date, article, price, name and address of purchaser. He died, and the young woman took the book home with her.

Reaching America, she called on the customs men and showed them the book. They read with interest and began tracing the sales. Most of the purchasers, they found, had smuggled their jewels into the country—an act for which there is a heavy fine. Uncle Sam's coffers were vastly enriched.

And the young woman? The customs regulations give an informer 25 per cent of all fines collected. To date this young woman has realized just $200,000 on her little book; and the end is not yet.

We don't know just what the moral may be. Perhaps it is that in dealing with the customs men you must be very, very careful.

Today's question: Why hasn't some civics professor called in Al Capone for a little lecture on municipal government?

FRENCH POLITICS AND RAIN

It seems there is quite a difference between the French and the Americans.

France held elections the other day, and politicians were hoping for rain. If election day were rainy, they explained, the people would vote; if it were bright and shiny, too many of them would take an outing in the country and would not go near the polls.

In this country all this is reversed. A rainy day keeps the vote down; but if there is sunshine, people flock to the polls in great numbers.

This striking contrast probably has some deep significance regarding the national characteristics of the two peoples, but for the life of us we can't figure out what it is.

A KING ACTS AS A KING

We like to have kings live up to tradition, even twentieth century kings, therefore the little episode recounted in the newspapers the other day of the friendly chauffeur, who stopped beside a stranded automobile on a Bulgarian road and rendered assistance to the American tourists by repairing the disabled engine and who, it developed, was King Boris of Bulgaria, is highly pleasing. If he hadn't been a real king he probably would have heeded some of the advice of the wise to pass along the road indifferent to distress signals, especially when it is dusk or dark, lest they be hold-up men laying a trap.

YES, THE LADY IS RIGHT

The editorial, "It pays to advertise," in The Register of last evening, about the lady in Newport who saw a Santa Ana merchant's ad of bargains in dress apparel, hired a taxi to rush post-haste from the beach to the city, to be on time to secure one or more of the dresses and thus save some of her good dollars, reminds one of the saying of the immortal William Jennings Bryan, of presidential fame, when he gave utterance to the remark that "Doing business without advertising is like kissing a girl in the dark; you may know what you are doing, but no other fellow does." Yes, the lady in Newport Beach is right; it pays to advertise, especially in The Register.—J. Albert Dennis.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

COMFORTABLE SHOES
I am wondering how many children suffer because their feet are uncomfortable in their pretty shoes.

A short time ago a little boy of seven was brought into the office because he was irritable in the classroom.

"We have examined his eyes. They are perfect. We have tested his hearing and he can hear a mouse's whisper. We have weighed and measured him and he is right up to the standard. His nose and his throat are clear and clean. His appetite is good. His mother says he is good at home. He starts in the day in good shape but by noon he is too irritable to live with and we have to send him for a drink, divert his attention in one way or another, but he keeps right on fussing and fuming and finally ends up the day in a tantrum."

I looked the little lad over and could not find a thing the matter with him. I examined his school schedule, his home schedule, nothing wrong there. But the fact remained. This little boy was making no progress in school because he blew up every afternoon. His day was a progression of fits. Now why?

"He is tired," said I to myself. "That is plain. I'll loosen his clothes and lay him on the couch and let him sleep for a time. See what that'll do. I removed his tie, loosened his bands and buttons, and slipped off the sturdy, well-made shoes. He sighed in relief. "I'm glad to get those hot boxes off," said he, wiggling his toes in joyous release. "Will you let me walk around in my stockings?"

"Walk away," said I.

All the fatigue vanished in the next fifteen minutes. "He did his work, chatted happily, helped clear away the books and papers, took a great interest in life. It came time to dress for home. I buttoned his clothes and replaced the bands and buckles. Then I reached for the shoes. Instantly the brightness vanished from his face. The frown between the eyes returned. He wiggled nervously. "Do these shoes feel comfortable?" I asked.

"No, indeed they don't. They're just like hot boxes. They burn my feet and they stub my toes and they squinch my heels and they hurt me awful and I told my mother and she says don't talk to me such nonsense." They are loose for you. And I tell her they do hurt me and she says no they don't. And they do. Awful! And he kicked his heels into the floor.

His mother got him other shoes. Wide soft shoes that felt like mittens on his feet. Now he was a smiling good little boy that everybody loved and who loved everybody. He happened to have very sensitive feet.

Look to the child's feet. Shoes are so important. (Copyright 1928 by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Everybody's Doing ItMore Truth Than Poetry

TOPSY TURVY STREET

I always have heard that the lamb, who are never exactly discreet, when they once broke away from their dams and flock to a place The Street, returned to the fold quite devoid of their wool and indented with scratches and crosses. Where the teeth and the horns of the bear and the bull had torn off their beautiful fleeces.

These creatures—the bull and the bear, I supposed were exceedingly smart and always got more than their share of the cash to be gained in the mart. I thought that the lamb would be cowed by their glances. As the fly at the glare of the spider, that the market had hardly a Chinaman's chance.

For the ignorant, foolish outsider,

These creatures—the bull and the bear may note. Are both looking weary and worn. While the face of the lamb wears a glow. And as yet he is wholly unshorn. His judgment in bucking the market just now. Perhaps may be wholly mistaken. But still the observer is forced to allow. That he always comes home with the bacon.

That the bear and the bull you may note.

Are both looking weary and worn.

While the face of the lamb wears a glow.

But if lambs, with their foolish and fatuous blood.

Break away for a time from the colic.

And clean up a few billion bucks in The Street—

Well, wisdom appears to be folly!

BUT THERE IS NO HOPE

A little unemployment among Senators and Congressmen would not do any harm just now.

REAL TEACHING

Food is no good unless there is a hunger for it. Water is not relished unless you are thirsty.

And the corollary of these facts is that teaching does not do much good unless there is first a desire to be taught.

That is a successful teacher, therefore, who arouses in his pupils a desire for learning. The teacher is not one in charge of the knowledge supply whose sole business it is to ladle out information to inquiring minds. His business is to create an appetite. When a boy or girl wants to learn he can be said to have the rudiments of culture. Not until then.

The Metropolitan High school of Los Angeles probably is doing real teaching. It finds the boys and girls who have the opportunity for regular schooling and supplies them with that training they need.

There is a law in the state of California that every child of a certain age must attend school at least 4 hours a week. This is not much, but it is some. It provides that the young shall not be left wholly without training. The Board of Education of Los Angeles complies with this law by using the Metropolitan High School on Venice Boulevard, whose business it is to take care of these part-time students.

How well it does this is shown by the figures that it has an average of 5000 students morning and afternoon.

In many instances the children are taken out of school because their parents are financially unable to dispense with their services. By means of this school children are enabled to work in some gainful occupation and, at the same time, pursue their education, learning to be more efficient in their calling as well as acquiring useful knowledge.

What or what it means to a community to have an organized band of interested men and women to whom a youth can turn should be due to employment instead of being forced to hawk his abilities from door to door in the long and grueling process of finding employment to do!

The education of youth is so important a matter that every one should take part in it. It should not be confined entirely to the school room, but everyone should co-operate with the school teachers.

More and more the idea is growing that the first essential of a good education is to enable a person to stand squarely upon his own feet and to be beholden to nobody. The first requisite of an American citizen is work, not any form of charity, and this school teaches the youth how to find work.

It is evident in tremendous numbers of young people that there is no place for them in the world. They are not old.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

CHAIN STORES COME OF AGE

In 1924 they added 127 new stores. These four major chains made total sales in 1927 of $612,000,000.

Between 1926 and 1927 their sales increased 12 per cent, and their profits increased over 10 per cent.

The chain system becomes powerfully by virtue of the combination of great purchasing power, obviously a great system that can absorb the total output of factories can procure lower prices because the factories are enabled to standardize output and reduce costs of handling.

The chain system, because it centralizes its buying, can effect enormous savings through a small and highly expert staff of buyers.

The chain system can standardize its goods and can standardize their handling so that waste motion is about eliminated from its merchandising operations.

What will all this ultimately mean to the independent stores?

For one thing, it will compel small store men to federate in associations that will enable them to combine many of the advantages of the chain system with the desirability of independent ownership; a new profession is likely to emerge—the business director of great federations of small business men.
